

The Wellesley Cancer Prevention Project
& Wellesley Free Library
present

Dr. Julia Brody
Breast Cancer Prevention:
On the Quest for a Cure

Dr. Brody, executive director of Silent Spring Institute and adjunct assistant professor at the Brown University School of Medicine, is a leader in research on breast cancer and the environment. Join her for an update based on recent research regarding environmental pollutants, diet, body size and physical activity, and their relation to the incidence of cancer. A short Q&A session will follow Dr. Brody's remarks. Refreshments will be offered.
